

Extreme Home Makeover in MN

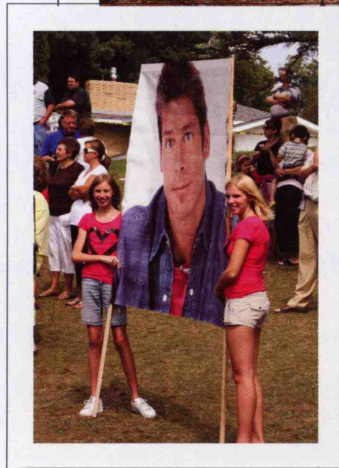

Member TJB Homes Takes on Construction of Extreme Home in Minnetonka

If you've seen the show, you know the drill. For those of you who haven't, ABC's Extreme Makeover: Home Edition selects a family in need and then finds a builder and hundreds of volunteers to tear down and build a new home from scratch in just 7 days.

For the first time in the show's history, they've come to Minnesota. BAM member TJB Homes, Inc. stepped up to the challenge and volunteered their services. You can find details about the family and the project at <http://www.project508.com>. The show will air Sunday, November 25th.

From construction of the home all the way to landscaping, custom paving of the drive and a playground for the kids, volunteer crews did it all in just 7 days. By day 6, a massive crowd of spectators was still gathered, but the crew of volunteers were down to the final clean-up efforts for the reveal.

Members from TJB Homes could be identified by their maroon shirts. All members of the community were welcome to participate, and they're seen in blue.

Two show fans watched the action with a larger-than-life poster of show host and Minnesota native Ty Pennington.
